

A close-up photograph of a single pink tulip flower in bloom, positioned in the upper center. The flower's petals are a soft, light pink color with some darker pink veining. It is surrounded by several long, green, lance-shaped leaves that are covered in small, clear water droplets. The background is dark and out of focus, making the flower and leaves stand out.

Not everyone wants to be shown attention,
even if they deserve it.

The Thoughtful Caregiver